Eeeeeeee Numb. 4460.

The Daily Courant.

Monday, February 6. 1716.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 28.

From the Saxon Camp under General Fleming near Tornassow, January 4.

ON the 31st past we quitted the Neighbourhood of Zamosc and came to post ourselves in three Bodies round about Kratsnobrot. On the 1st of this Month we continued our March and came to take our Head-Quarters at Tornassow, the Troops having foraged in the Villages where they were cantoned. The Malecontents seperated and went to canton in the Places they thought convenient. The 2d we halted. The 3d we did the same, except a Detachment who changed Quarters for want of Forage; but this Day we decamp from hence to go into Quarters, where we shall remain during the Suspension of Arms. The Palatines of Podolia and Czernichow have let Count Fleming know, that they could not, for divers Reasons, which have been approved by his Excellency, come to Rava as appointed, before the 6th Instant.

Posnania, Jan. 16. 'We expect with Impatience the Success of the Congress which is held at Rava near Lemberg, by Count Fleming on the Part of the King, with some Senators named by the Confederacy, to bring about an Accommodation. The Court will the rather be willing to enter into Treaty with them, by reason that they apprehend the Confederates may introduce the Turks and Tartars into the Kingdom, which the Sojourn of the Russians here will give them a Pretence for. The Letters from Lemberg of the 8th, say they have Advice that the Turks and Tartars are assembling Men near Chozim, and that the Russian General Ronne is departed from Kiow by express Order from the Czar, to enter Poland. In the mean time the Suspension of Arms is prolonged to the 15th of February.

Berlin, Jan. 15. 'The Cold has been so excessive in this Country, that many People and Cattle have died of it. His Majesty has named the Major of his Regiment to go to Petersburg with secret Commissions, and he carries at the same time a rich Present to the young Prince to whom his Majesty is Godfather. We are very glad to hear that his Czarian Majesty is recovered of his late Indisposition. The Report spread that his Prussian Majesty was going to raise 6000 Men, does not yet appear to have any Foundation. M. Rathenburg, Envoy of France in this Court, having received a Letter from the Count de Croisy to deliver to the Baron d'Ilgen, and being at the same time advertised of the Contents of it, is not willing to charge himself with it, and so has sent it back again.

Post-Office Edinburgh, Wednesday Feb. 1. at Noon. This Morning between 7 and 8 came hither Major Steuart, Aide du Camp of the Duke of Argyll, who was dispatcht Yesternight from his Grace at Tullibardin. And about an Hour after came Mr. Holmes, Aide du Camp of General Cadogan: They got Horses, and set out immediately Post for London. They bring the agreeable News, that Yesterday Morning the Rebels left Perth, crossing the River Tay, and marcht up a Hill on the other Side called Kinnoul Hill, upon a Road which leads to Couper of Angus, leaving 200 Men, which were to follow them; that General Wetham with the advanced Guard took Possession of Perth Yesternight about Six; and that the Duke of Argyll was resolved how late soever to lye there Yesternight. We hourly expect an Express from Perth, with the Particulars. The Weather continues extraordinary fine.

London, February 6.

The Pretender having issued out several Orders for burning the Towns Villages and Houses, and destroying the Corn and Forage in the Country between Dumblain and Perth; one of those original Orders, which is that for burning Auchterarder, Signed by the Pretender's own Hand and Countersigned Mar, having been found at Tullibardin, has been transmitted hither, and is as follows.

James R.

WHereas it is absolutely necessary for our Service, and the publick Safety, that the Enemy should be as much incommoded as possible, especially upon their March towards us, if they should attempt any thing against us or our Forces; and being this can by no Means be better effected than by destroying all the Corns and Forage which may serve to Support them on their March, and burning the Houses and Villages which may be necessary for quartering the Enemy, which nevertheless it is our Meaning should only be done in Case of Absolute Necessity; Concerning which we have given our full Instructions to James Graham, Younger, of Braco. These are therefore Ordering and Requiring you how soon this Order shall be transmitted to your Hands by the said James Graham, forthwith with the Garrison under your Command to burn and destroy the Village of Auchterarder, and all the Houses, Corns, and Forage whatsoever within the said Town, so as they may be rendred entirely useless to the Enemy. For doing whereof this shall be to you, and all you employ in the Execution hereof, as sufficient Warrant. Given at our Court of Scone this 17th Day of January, in the Fifteenth Year of our Reign 1715-16.

To Collonel Patrick Graham, or the Commanding Officer for the Time of our Garrison for Tullibardine.

By his Majesty's Command, Mar.

This Barbarity to the Inhabitants of Auchterarder, who had already been impoverished by Taxes and Contributions which the Rebels had extorted from them, is the more surprizing, because it could no otherwise incommode his Majesty's Troops (who carried with them from Stirling Provisions of sorts for 12 Days) than by obliging them to lye one Night only in the open Air.

Famous Drops for Hypocondriack Melancholy: Which effectually cure on the Spot, by rectifying the Stomach and Blood, cleansing them from all Impurities, and giving a new Turn to their Ferment, attenuating all viscous tenacious Humours (which make the Head heavy, clog the Spirits, confuse the Mind, and cause the deepest Melancholy, with direful Views and black Reflections) comforting the Brain and Nerves, composing the hurried Thoughts, and introducing brisk lively Ideas and pleasant Images, instead of dismal Apprehensions and dark Incumbrance of the Soul, setting the Intellectuals at Liberty to act with Courage, Serenity and Steady Chearfulness, and causing a visible diffusive Joy to reign in the Room of uneasy Doubts, Fears, &c. for which they may be truly esteem'd infallible. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Bell's, Bookseller, at the Cross-Keys and Bible in Cornhill near the Royal-Exchange.

Consumptions of all sorts radically Cured, by a famous Elixir peculiarly invented for that Disease: Its wonderful Efficacy sufficiently explodes the erroneous Opinion, that Consumptions are incurable, since it absolutely retrieves the Patient tho' reduc'd to a meer Skeleton, quickly takes off all the Symptoms, as Cough, Hoarseness, Wheasing, Shortness of Breath, Pain or Weight in the Breast, Spitting of Blood, Fetcness of the Stomach, Throat or Windpipe; also Catarrhs or Defluxions of sharp Rhume, and all Phthisical and Asthmatick Affects, Hectick Fever, &c. perfectly Cures all internal Ulcers, cleanses all inward Washings, Weakness and every Infirmity, Being Restorative and Strengthning beyond Comparison: It infallibly eradicates the first Principle or Cause of Consumptions, rectifying the Disorders of the Stomach and first Passages, creating an Appetite, procuring a good Digestion, reducing the vicious Ferment of the Blood and Juices, correcting the Acrid Salts that erode the Lungs, certainly healing Ulcers therein, and infallibly Curing all sorts of Consumptions, tho' never so bad, in a very short time to a Miracle. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Osborn's Toyshop at the Rose and Crown under St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street.

The Volatile Cleanser and Strengthner of the Reins, an Elixir, which brings away visibly by the Urine all Relicks of Secret Injuries, scowring the Reins of all Foulness, Filth, Slime, or Matter that obstructs the free Passage of the Urine, and the Sharpness of it, or too frequent Occasions to make it: Strangurics Ulcers, &c. tho' of the long'st Date, known by Pains and Weakness of the Back, Thread Skins, Films, or Hairs flying about, or Matter settling at the bottom of the Urine, its strong Smell, &c. from which nothing is more common than ill Cures. It not only cleanses, but also after a particular manner, most powerfully Strengthens the Reins, recovers their lost Tone, and brings all their Parts and Passages into their right Order, in both Sexes. Price half a Guinea a Bottle, with Directions seal'd up, which is generally enough to cure any one Person. To be had at Mr. Lockton's Toyshop at the Griffin the Corner Shop in Bucklesbury in the Poultry. N.B. This is the same that hath been published and sold for above these 6 Years, with such extraordinary Success and Satisfaction, which sufficiently refutes the Suggestion that it is a Counterfeit; therefore I shall say no more in its Vindication.
